

RMO is reborn, and we are rebuilding, reenergizing, and reorganizing RMO to serve you like no other with new products, new opportunities and world-class service. As of October 20, 2020, RMO began a new chapter under new ownership, and is the benefactor of fresh ideas, very seasoned management with decades of orthodontic experience, new investment in technologies and processes to ensure excellent quality and service that will raise the bar and redefine what a great supplier partnership should be.

We assure you we are already implementing directives to lead RMO into the future and we appreciate your patience and understanding in allowing us a period in which to apply our best practices.

We are confident that you will soon see for yourselves the positive and beneficial changes we are incorporating, and we will not stop until we earn your business with our commitment to consistently meet and exceed your expectations.

Michael Jahns, President

Brandon Bernacchi, CEO

Thank you for your continued support as we transform the oldest orthodontic company in the industry into the best orthodontic company in the industry.

We honor the many who came before us in building RMO into a globally respected brand. We are truly honored to be the caretakers entrusted to lead RMO into the future.

Yours truly,

Michael Jahns, President
